

COVER CROPS

Five farms each with trial plots demonstrating six different Cover Crops, looking at

- ability to catch N
- increase in organic matter
- beneficial effects on soil biology
- improvement in soil structure
- reduction in soil erosion
- interaction with blackgrass

The Campaign for the Farmed Environment together with Catchment Sensitive Farming announce a further series of five meetings throughout the south east of England.

CATCHMENT SENSITIVE FARMING

The Campaign for the Farmed Environment (CFE) helps farmers and land managers choose the right environmental measures, put them in the right place and manage them in the right way - to protect soil and water, preserve and protect habitats and benefit wildlife.

Catchment Sensitive Farming (CSF) delivers practical solutions and targeted support to enable farmers and land managers to take voluntary action to reduce diffuse water pollution from agriculture in order to protect water bodies and the environment.

You are invited to attend a FREE event at one of the following Cover Crop demonstration sites

Wednesday 18th February 2015	Northbrook Farm, Micheldever, Hampshire
Thursday 19th February 2015	August Farms, Burford, Oxfordshire
Tuesday 24th February 2015	Cowdray Park, Midhurst, Sussex
Wednesday 25th February 2015	Bridge Farm, Ramsbury, Wiltshire
Thursday 26th February 2015	Saynden Farm, Staplehurst, Kent

The events will start with a tour of the Cover Crop plots, looking especially at soil structure and drilling techniques. Then we will move to an indoor location for presentations on soil biology and the results of the Cover Crop trials – how much nitrogen have the Cover Crops actually saved and how much organic matter will they provide? There will be ample opportunity to question the experts and we will finish with a soup and sandwich lunch.

BASIS CPD and NRoSO points will be available for attendees.

Further details with directions to the venues and a more detailed agenda will be forwarded after booking on. Please specify the venue that you want to attend when you book.
